Introduction

Welcome to the HAVA Coin Whitepaper, your comprehensive guide to understanding the revolutionary cryptocurrency poised to transform the Cosmos ecosystem. In this document, we will delve into the essence of HAVA Coin, its purpose, the vision driving its development, and the intricacies of its tokenomics.

What is HAVA Coin?

HAVA Coin is a cutting-edge cryptocurrency meticulously crafted to empower participants in the Cosmos ecosystem. Serving as the backbone of decentralized finance (DeFi) activities, governance processes, and community engagement, HAVA Coin epitomizes the spirit of innovation and inclusivity within the blockchain space.

Cosmos Celebration

As part of our commitment to celebrating the vibrant Cosmos community, we are thrilled to announce the launch of the Cosmos Celebration initiative. Through this initiative, we will be airdropping HAVA tokens to loyal stakers across various Cosmos chains, including Juno, Celestia, Injective, Osmosis, and more. Additionally, HAVA tokens will be distributed to liquidity providers on multiple platforms and ecosystem NFT holders, recognizing their invaluable contributions to the Cosmos ecosystem.

HAVA Token Distribution

The issuance of HAVA Coin will occur on the Injective chain, leveraging its robust infrastructure and scalability features. This strategic decision ensures seamless interoperability and accessibility for participants across the Cosmos network. Furthermore, HAVA tokens will be allocated to liquid stakers on various platforms, offering them exclusive benefits and incentives to foster long-term engagement.

Eligibility Criteria

1. Wallets that have had at least 100 USDC staked worth of ATOM, OSMO, INJ, JUNO, TIA, HUAHUA and holdings of at least 100 USDC of WOSMO
2. Wallets that have had 100 USDC in liquid staking in stATOM, stOSMO, stTIA, stDYM, and milkTIA.
3. Learn more in the next section.

Airdrops & Boosters

The HAVA Coin airdrop represents our gratitude to the Cosmos community and ecosystem contributors. Through strategic boosters and incentives, we aim to amplify the impact of the airdrop, driving widespread adoption and engagement.

The airdrop is for staking ATOM, OSMO, JUNO, TIA, INJ, CHIHUAHUA, and holders of WOSMO.

Also it includes allocation to some liquid stakers:

- via Stride of stATOM, stOSMO, stTIA, and stDYM;
- via MilkyWay of milkTIA, and milkDYM;

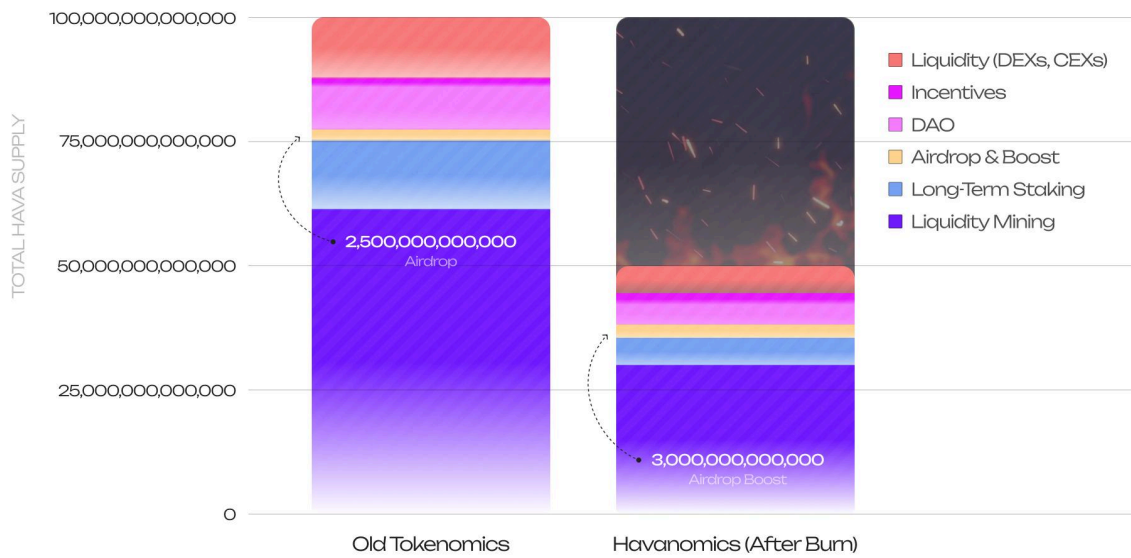

- via pStake of stkATOM and stkOSMO;
- via Quicksilver of uqATOM and uqOSMO.

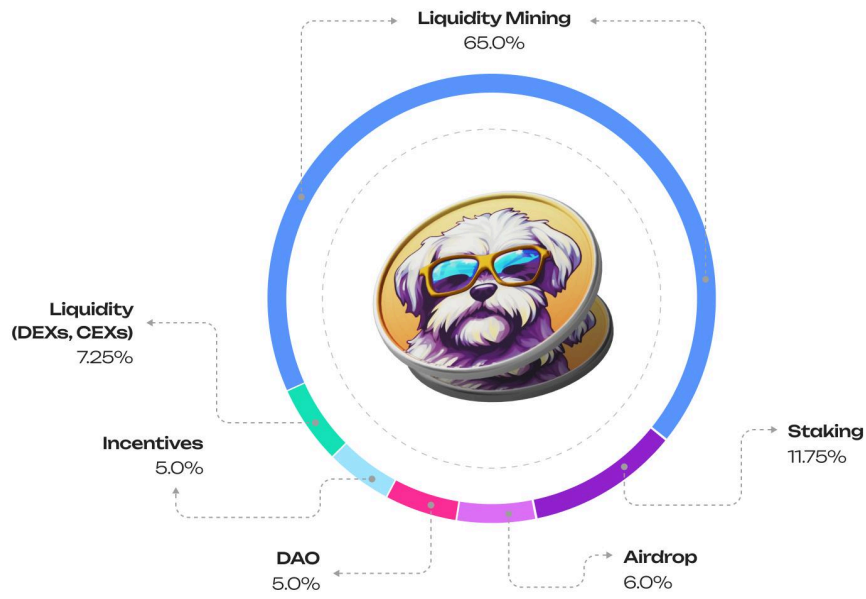

And to some BadKids holders.

Tokenomics Overview & Burn

The recent tokenomics restructuring involved a strategic burn of a significant portion of HAVA tokens, enhancing scarcity and value appreciation. This bold move underscores our commitment to optimizing token distribution and ensuring long-term sustainability.

HAVA Coin operates on a carefully crafted tokenomics model designed to incentivize participation, reward contributors, and drive sustainable growth within the ecosystem. Here is a brief overview of the token distribution after the revision upon community feedback:

	% of Total Supply	in HAVA Coin
Liquidity Mining	65.00%	32,500,000,000,000
Staking	11.75%	5,875,000,000,000
Airdrop	6.00%	3,000,000,000,000
DAO	5.00%	2,500,000,000,000
Incentives	5.00%	2,500,000,000,000
Liquidity (DEXs, CEXs)	7.25%	3,625,000,000,000
Total	100.00%	50,000,000,000,000

Launch Roadmap

Our roadmap outlines key milestones and initiatives leading up to the official launch of HAVA Coin. From token distribution events to ecosystem expansion efforts, each step is meticulously planned to maximize value creation and community participation.
